No one knows who invented pencils or when it happened. A Swiss described a pencil in a book in 1965. He said it was a piece ( 0 ) wood with lead inside it. Lead is a very heavy, soft, dark gray metal. Pencils weren't popular, and people continued to write ( 1 ) pens. They used bird feathers as pens. Then, ( 2 ) 1795, someone started making pencils ( 3 ) graphite, and they became very popular. Graphite is like coal. Coal is black, and we burn it ( 4 ) heat and energy . Today, people make pencils in the same way. They grind the graphite, make it into the shape of a stick, and bake it. Then they put it inside a piece of wood. One pencil can write 50, 000 English words or make line 55 kilometers long. People wrote with feather pens and the use pens with metal points. They had to dip the point ( 5 ) ink after every few letters, Next someone invented a fountain pen that could hold ink inside it. A fountain pen can write several pages before you have to fill it again. Two Hungarian brothers, Ladislao and Georg Biro, invented a ballpoint pen. They left Hungary and started making ballpoint pens in England in 1943 , during World War II. English pilots liked the pens. They couldn't write with fountain pens in airplanes because the ink leaked out. Later, a French company called Bic bought the Birus' company. Some people call ballpoint pens " Bics." Australians call them " biros." Whatever we call them, we use them every day.
